

Why Flagged vs. Unflagged?

Given the choice of flagged vs. unflagged bristles for your angle broom, which is the right option with you?

If the floor surface is smooth, use an angle broom with Feather Tip® or Flagged Bristles. Flagged Bristles sweep the finest particles. If the floor surface is rough, use an angle broom with Unflagged Bristles. Unflagged Bristles sweep the heaviest debris and prevent the bristle ends from matting together from grease and grime.

Flagged Bristles

Unflagged Bristles

Flagged Bristle Benefits

- Great for sweeping on smooth floors
- Great for hallways, rooms and stairs
- Bristles have splintered ends to pick up fine dust particles
- Use in dry environments to pick up granules, dust and other light debris

Unflagged Bristle Benefits

- Great for kitchens, freezers and bathrooms
- Works best on rough or moist surfaces that require heavy sweeping
- Unflagged bristles have straight ends for sweeping up heavy debris
- Ends will not get matted together, even while sweeping through grease and grime
